KEEPING IT REAL

Hanna Hasl-Kelchner is a multi-award winning author who takes an unflinching look at business leadership.

Her strength as an author, speaker, and consultant rests in the unique perspective she brings to the conversation: growing up in an entrepreneurial family, running a business before age 30, and blending it with decades practicing business law.

“There is no real trust without fairness.”

These experiences enable her to successfully bridge the social psychological, legal, and practical aspects of workplace dynamics.

Her recent book, Seeking Fairness at Work: Cracking the New Code of Greater Employee Engagement, Retention & Satisfaction, examines the unwritten workplace rules employees secretly wish they could tell their boss about and what bosses really need to hear.

SUGGESTED INTRODUCTION

Hanna Hasl-Kelchner is known for her nonsense approach to complex topics, reducing them into bite size pieces to enable more informed decision making. She accomplishes this as a speaker, author, business strategist and President of Business M.O., LLC.

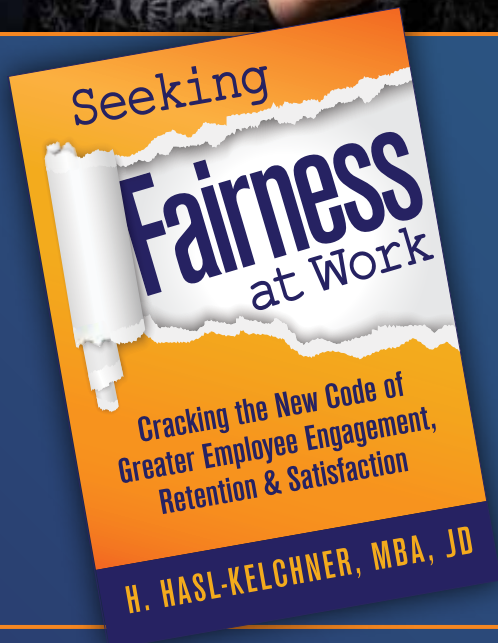

She’s been a trusted advisor to influential decision makers ranging from startups to the S&P 500, Big Tobacco, and the White House, as well as serving on the faculty at two top-ranked MBA programs (The Duke University Fuqua School of Business and the University of Virginia, Darden School of Business).
